Federal Woman's Working Group

In response to a Headquarters Notice which announced that the Agency's Federal Woman's Working Group needed volunteers, three members of the Supply Management Branch submitted applications to represent the DDA as a member of the Group.

Both applicants were interviewed at Headquarters by members of the Agency's EEO Office during the latter part of May. Topics of discussion included Foreign Service Wives re-entering the job market; educational opportunities available to bring them up to date with the changing job scene; job skill assessment; transferring volunteer service skills to a paying position with the Federal Government; financial planning; drug and alcohol abuse experienced among our children; and counseling opportunities which are available through OMS and local community service agencies to assist Agency families.

DDA employees have applied for the two vacancies and the announcement of final selection is expected in the near future. Both applicants feel that participation in this Group would be of considerable personal and professional value, allowing them to contribute ideas to enhance the role of women working in the Federal Government while also enabling them to provide valuable feedback on these activities to members of the DDA.
